KANSAS CITY, Jan. 20.—The Santa Fe mail, with dates to the 7th, has arrived.

Fe on the evening of the 4th, and says 1,500 Texans with 7 pieces of artillery are marching on Fort Craig, and were within 30 miles of that post. Scouts from the fort had been driven in, and a severe battle was expected, as the Texans were fighting principally for food. Governor Connelly had called out the entire militia.

Col. Canby intends to follow him or not. Scouts from Peicots had not arrived when the mail left. Col. Canby has 1,000 regulars and 1,500 volunteers and militia at his command. All is excitement at Santa Fe. Martial law had been declared in the district. Through passengers—Col. Street

FREDERICK, Md., Jan. 19.—Private, but unusually reliable advices from Hancock state that Gen. Jackson's retirement from Hancock and his pretended retreat to Winchester was a ruse, and that, without retiring to the latter place, he returned with 12,000 men to Romney. It is also stated that Gen. Lander, following out his instructions,

There are rumors of a fight having occurred, but it is discredited.

It is estimated that 300 refugee women, from Jefferson county, are in and around this county. Many of them left their children at home, and are now desirous to return, but a strict blockade is kept by Colonels Geary, Leonard and Link's command.

FOUR MONTHS, Jan. 20.—No news has been received here of the Burnside expedition, which sailed from here over a week since. The Southern papers say nothing about the expedition, although if a landing had been made the news ought to have reached Richmond and Norfolk before this. No anxiety, however, is felt on the subject.

news from the expedition will be received at this point, yet as Gen. Burnside's dispatches will be sent to Washington direct, they might probably reach their destination earlier if sent via Annapolis, as they might have to wait nearly a whole day for the Baltimore boat here.

LAHAVENWORTH, Jan. 20.—In the case of Governorship, James, of the Supreme Court, refused to grant the mandamus applied for by the contestant. Under this decision Robinson, the present incumbent, holds over one year.

Considerable excitement prevails at Atchison to-day owing to a collision between citizens and Bauso jayhawkers. Some arrests were made, and there is much excitement.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 21, A. M.—The river has risen 1 foot 9 inches since last evening, and 4 feet since yesterday noon. It is now rising 1 inch per hour, with 52 feet 4 inches in the channel. Weather cool and cloudy, with light snow last night. Mercury 40.

PIRENEO, January 21.—River 26 feet 9 inches by the pier mark at 12. Weather wet.

MAXSVILLE, Jan. 21.—River risen 2 feet since noon yesterday, and still rising at the rate of three inches per hour.

A NEW SHELL—W. W. Hanes, of the Hamilton Iron Foundry, on Front street near John, has invented a new shell, which is represented by judges to be the best invention yet produced. The missile is oblong, and not so sharp at the point as those now in use; the shell proper has an outside

On next Saturday evening the Volunteers' Families' Relief Committee will give another concert at the Masonic Temple. The best talent of the city have kindly volunteered their services and we have no hesitation in saying it will be well worthy the patronage of the loyal ladies and gentlemen of Louisville, and to insure a full house we need only say the committee are much in want of funds to alleviate the wants of the families of the volunteers. d&n

The attention of those interested in called to the City Ordinances which we published this morning. By a recent act of the Legislature the General Council is empowered to require a license of all vehicles running for profit or hire; and we are requested by Mr. Joseph Jones, the License Inspector, to say to all who call and pay their license to the Treasurer and receive from the Clerk of the Council their certificate. Those failing to comply will find that the ordinance will be enforced.

THE QUARTERMASTER GENERAL FOR KEN-TUCKY.—We are informed by a gentleman now in command of a regiment of Kentucky troops, that this officer insists that "jackets with standing collars" are a comfortable substitute for shirts without collars for men now in the field. Our informant wishes this officer had to live in a tent this winter and wear a shirt without a collar, to give proof of his sincerity.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Tuesday, Jan. 21.
Theodore Finley, charged with stealing two mules from G. W. Welch. Continued until Thursday.
Fly, O'Neal, drunk and disorderly conduct, $200 for two months. Gone up.
Jim Murphy, drunk and disorderly; $200 for six months. Gone up.

OUR CITY REGISTER.—By last night's mail we received No. 1 of a well filled, well printed paper, bearing the above title, published at the village of Oil City, Venango county, Pa., by our old friend, formerly a foreman in this office, Walter R. Johns. We wish him all possible success in his new enterprise.

Three hundred mules were shipped from Cincinnati to Lexington on Monday, and as many more yesterday.

Situation Near Cumberland Gap.

THE STORY OF A DESERTER FROM HUMPHREY MARSHALL'S ARMY.

CAMP CALVERT, NEAR LONDON, KY., January 17, 1862.

Editors Democrat.—Gentlemen: Jack Jones has just arrived from Flat Lick, home of six miles this side of Cumberland Gap, and reports two or three hundred rebels over there from Cumberland Gap, and a body of infantry close behind.

There are no troops here except Colonel Garrison's regiment, and about one-third of them unfit for duty. We ought to have force sufficient to move up as far as Cumberland Gap, at least.

A deserter came into our camp this evening from Marshall's army. He reports that Marshall died before Col. Garfield in utter consternation and confusion. He says Marshall had three thousand, "folk and all." He is trying to make his way toward Fleming county. His name is Benjamin, and he lives six miles from Flemingburg, near Elizabethtown.

He has been in the rebel army about two months, and says he has got his full share of Southern rights. Marshall's force consisted of two squadrons of cavalry, under Lieut. Col. —, of Bourbon county—W. E. Simms was Colonel of the regiment but was not on Sandhurst's infantry regiment, commanded respectively by Col. Williams, of Clarke county, Col. Trigg, of Virginia, and Col. —, and four pieces of cannon.

John M. Burns, of Prestonsburg, is Brigade Commander, and Judge Wm. H.
Barnes, of West Liberty, is one of Marshall's staff. Jack says, of West Liberty, is Lieutenant Colonel of Williams' regiment.
Williams' regiment are mostly Kentuckians.
He says the rebels report a loss of ten thousand men, but he knows how many were wounded, thinks the loss much greater than reported. More anon.

Respectfully,
N.

THE SITUATION ON THE SOUTH CAROLINA SEABOARD.—The Charleston correspondent of the Richmond Examiner, writing under date of January 6, gives the following as the situation on the seaboard:

All accounts seem to agree as to the fact that the Yankee gunboats are admirably managed. They range at will up and down the little bayous of the coast, and their rifle guns are always served with great precision. It was probably the consideration of this great advantage, which the enemy possesses, that has induced General Lee to fall back from the shore line of the main, and to choose his position for a final stand about three miles from the Coosaw river.

The position of the hostile forces at this time may be briefly stated as follows: The enemy, by means of his gunboats, holds command of Broad river and St. Helena sound, with all the intervening islands. His fleet easily occupies the mainland just opposite to Port Royal, and can now possess themselves, whenever they please, of the rest of the main shore opposite to Port Royal, making, in all, a tract of about six miles long and half mile wide, immediately bordering on the Coosaw river.

This tract has been abandoned altogether by the Confederate forces, which have retreated about three miles toward the railroad, leaving a strip of rice lands, averaging two miles in width, separating them from the positions yielded to the enemy. These rice fields have been all "flowed" or inundated by military authority, so that there are now only a few narrow roads by which the Yankees can push forward toward the interior.

Should they advance, of course they must abandon the support of the gunboats and stand to their own strength upon the land.

Stewart, the New York merchant prince, has some venerable Uncle Sam on the hip. Some months since he engaged the entire production of Eastern cotton mill sheep, and so controls the supply of army cloth, and of course sets his own price. He is making money faster than any man in the United States. His regular sales will average a million dollars a week. This year's transactions, in legitimate and speculative business, will bring his fortune up to twenty million dollars, at the lowest estimate.

MONSTER BAKERY.—A monster bakery has been established at Cork, with a view of selling bread to the poor at first cost during the expected hard times. Sir John Aston, the Mayor of the city, has invested £40,000 in the concern.

ARMING THE NEGRO.—After a great deal of thought, reading, reflection, meditation, and prayer, we have determined to assist Messrs. Greeley in his pet scheme of arming the negroes. Every day Messrs.
Greeley hoots and holla-balloos about raising negro regiments and insists not only upon carrying the war into Africa, but also upon carrying Africa into the United States. We opposed him long enough. We are now going to support his proposition; only, as we are as intensely practical as Gradgrind, we intend giving it a practical form.

We are in favor, then, of immediately raising a brigade of five thousand negroes in this city, and of appointing Messrs. Greeley to command it. We can easily spare the negroes, and will be glad to get rid of Greeley. His commission as Brigadier General Messrs. Greeley has been easily procured of President Lincoln; or, if the President still refuses to have anything to do with Greeley and his policy, let Governor Morgan be applied to, or, still better, Governor Andrew, of Massachusetts. An easier way would be, however, to obtain a commission from Governor Davis, of Coney Island, who has full authority in the premises, and whose commissions are just as good as those of Lincoln, Morgan, and Andrew, or any other man. There should be no delay in this matter; for we long to see Greeley in all the pomps and circumstance of war, shining like a comet in his appropriate sphere, with his white hat and coat exchanged for a general's plumed campaign hat and buff uniform, and his legs encased in a pair of seven league jackboots, of the style of Bombastes Furio-so.—N. Y. Herald

JAYHAWKERS SHOT.—On Wednesday night, at the residence of Mr. Warren Lewis, who resides some eight miles below this city, there was quite a brisk and desperate fight between five or six Federal soldiers, and a party of the same size of Jayhawkers, from Kansas. The Jayhawkers were making a descent on Mr.
Lewis for the purpose of taking his horses, which were resisted by the Federal soldiers.
